The future of Anne Arundel County is literally being written right now with four major land use and development bills on the horizon.

What are the bills? What will they do? What impact will they have on our county? On transportation? On housing? On the quality of life? How do these bills intersect? Overlap? What do they include? What do they exclude?

We can't remember a time when so much is at stake, and that doesn't even include the comprehensive zoning work for one third of the County which the County Council will take up early in 2025.

Please join us for an informative overview of the major land use and housing legislation that will be introduced over the next few months. Deputy CAO for Land Use, Janssen Evelyn, and Director of Government Affairs Ethan Hunt, will explain the highlights of the expected legislation and help us all understand how the parts all fit together and contribute to the County's overall strategy on housing, land use, and development.

We ask GAN members and friends to limit questions to the chat, and our moderator will coordinate them.

These conversations are part of GAN's ongoing efforts to inform citizens about the actions of our government, connect citizens with county leaders, and generate citizen participation in matters affecting our communities.

Public meeting on rezoning applications across South County September 25, 6:00pm at Southern High School

On September 25, the Planning Advisory Board will hold a public hearing on the draft Region 9 Plan and draft zoning map. The public may provide verbal testimony at the meeting, and written testimony can be provided until October 9, 2024. See the Meeting notice for full details on requirements for written and oral testimony and virtual attendance of the meeting.
